Reginald Denny Film Promises Plenty Thrills

Torrance Theatre Has Fine Program for Movie Fans Here

WHAT'S ON AT TORRANCE THEATRE

Friday—Last time of "The Man Who Fights Alone," starring William Farnum.

Saturday—Reginald Denny in "The Reckless Age"; Ninth Episode of "The Fortieth Door"; "The Butterfly," a Secrets of Life reel; Burlington Travelog.

Sunday and Monday—Virginia Valli, Wallace Beery and Rockliffe Fellows in "The Signal Tower"; Plastigrams, third-dimension movie; Mermaid Comedy, "Family Life"; International News.

In "The Reckless Age," which comes to the Torrance theatre Saturday, Reginald Denny's admirers are promised the same dash and go that characterized all his screen offerings.

The picture, which is adapted from Earl Derr Biggers' Saturday Evening Post story, "Love Insurance," is a rapid-fire tale of an insurance man standing guardian over an English lord who has insured himself against failure to marry an heiress. There are infinite possibilities for comedy and action in such a situation, and it is said that Harry Pollard, the director, has taken advantage of every opportunity to provide thrills and laughs.

Sunday and Monday Torrance theatre audiences will be treated to action and thrills aplenty. "The Signal Tower," a rip-roaring railroad melodrama, will be the piece de resistance. Virginia Valli has the leading role; Wallace Beery and Rockliffe Fellows are in the cast.

Something new in motion pictures will also be offered, in Plastigrams, a novel reel in which the third dimension, depth, is given. The characters stand out just as in real life; in fact, they seem to come right out at the audience.

The program is completed with a Mermaid comedy, "Family Life," and International News.

Wednesday night saw the inauguration of the "Pay Day" novelty at the Torrance theatre, and, as the poet would say, a goodly crowd was there.

Neil Currier, a Standard Oil field man, living on Center street in the Keystone tract, was the lucky recipient of the five-dollar bill. Being the first night the stunt was put on, there was naturally some confusion caused by people leaving their seats, but all in all the manager of the theatre, Mr. Grace, handled the situation very well. Mr. Grace wishes it announced that next Thursday, when "Pay Day" comes again at the theatre, the wrinkles will have been ironed out, and the show handled in a more satisfactory and orderly manner.

Mr. Tresize of Gardena delivered last Sunday's morning message. His theme was "Lifting Up Jesus"; scripture reading, Num. 21:5-9; text, John 3:14—"As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of Man be lifted up"; John 12:32—"And if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto Me." The serpent is a type of Satan and sin; brass, of judgment.

At the young people's meeting Mr. Tresize gave a talk on faith. The evening message was delivered by Mr. Elliot; theme, "Ye Are the Salt of the Earth"; scripture reading, Matt. 5:1-17; text, verses 13-14. Of a true Christian Jesus says: "Ye are the salt of the earth. Ye are the light of the world." So, Christians, "let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven."

Helen Hannebrink Has Pretty Party

A number of happy young people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hannebrink, Andro avenue, Tuesday afternoon to celebrate the birthday of their daughter Helen. After playing a number of games the young people were ushered into the dining room, where they were served with ice cream and cake.

The dining room was prettily decorated in the Halloween colors of black and yellow. From the light over the table, which was covered with a black and yellow shade, streamers of black and yellow extended to the four corners of the room. Jack-o'-lanterns, witches and full moons covered the walls. Witches and black cats were used for place cards and, with small baskets of candy, marked places for Veronica McNeal, Ethel and Genevieve Guyan, Dorothy Stevenson, Dorothy Reine-man, Ruth Anderson, Olive McKenzie, Mary McLean, Myrtle Winkler, Doris Wood, and Lois and Anita Boehler of Gardena, Mrs. Rueweler (Helen's grandmother), and the honoree, Helen Hannebrink.

OBSERVATIONS

by an Englishman. Which brings to mind that the great emancipator is revered in all countries of the globe as much as he is in the United States. H. G. Wells once declared that Lincoln should be numbered among the ten greatest men that ever lived.

Wells probably does not overestimate the value to humanity of this great American. Touched with something that was divine, this simple, noble man brought government up to a level with Christian teachings. There was nothing of hate in his heart. His piercing vision saw through mundane trivialities, on to a great white light.

So nearly did he live according to the teachings of the Master that the world still sits at his feet, worshipping and revering. The play "Abraham Lincoln" brings home the bitter sadness of Honest Abe. It recreates the man whose name all over the world is synonymous with those precepts of human charity that all men, white, black, yellow and brown, in their heart of hearts, accept.
